You must take good care of your motorcycle, keep it well-oiled and ensure it's properly maintained. One of the essential aspects of keeping your bike in the best condition possible is not about how you use it; it is about how you store it. Today, there are many types of storage sheds available in the market for your motorcycle. The problem is that they all claim to be better than the competitors and the best in the market. But luckily, we have done extensive research, and review for the best motorcycle storage sheds for you so that you can easily choose the best when you go out shopping. After spending several hours going through amazon, reddit, youtube and various other sources, I picked 7 of the best and most suited sheds for bikes. These sheds work for both motorcycles and bicycles (electric or otherwise). 1. Arrow Woodridge 8x6 Low Gable Steel Storage Shed Arrow Woodridge is an 8ft by 6ft storage shed that is big enough to house multiple bikes. This is the largest bike shed on this list. This shed is made of galvanized steel which is treated for corrosion resistance. It also features UV resistant steel panels that are super effective against rot, insects and harsh weather conditions. These safety features are always good to have, especially if you are living in places like Florida, Louisiana, etc where the weather can get pretty harsh sometimes. This high capacity bike storage unit also features pad-lockable sliding doors for easy entry and exit. The DIY assembly lets you set it up quickly without hassles. The user manual should guide you through. The size is 8'L x 6'W x 6.8'H. If I were to buy a multipurpose shed for myself, I would definitely go with this Apart from these, I loved the look of this motorbike shed. The coffee trim design makes it look super aesthetic. If you live in a mid-sized house, choosing this shed is a good idea. Not only does it let you store your bike but also other outdoor stuff like power tools, cleaning supplies, lawnmower, etc. 2. The Bike Shield Motorcycle Shelter/Cover (Tent Garage) Most of the motorbike enthusiasts can sacrifice anything to keep their bikes safe and well maintained. The Bike Shield Motorcycle Shelter is one of the best products in the market due to the fact that it is waterproof, easy to use and looks so compact. The shelter is also volatile to use for multiple purposes such as cover unit, motorbike garage, bike shed, or tent. Its material is sturdy and waterproof featuring a heavy-duty polyurethane coating on the inner side of the fabric to protect the motorbike from scratches and damages. The ventilation windows help to reduce dehumidification inside the storage shed. Bike Shield does not have a base, so it is good to note that the tent can let in pests like mice. So keep that in mind while you set it up. This tent garage has fantastic reviews and ratings on Amazon and you will not go wrong with this one. 3. KETER Manor 4x6 Resin Outdoor Motorcycle Storage Shed This 4x6 storage space is big enough for storing bikes, bicycles, or any other power tools like a lawnmower. This outdoor bike storage is among the best motorbike storage sheds in the market currently because it does not only protect against the weather but also thieves and pests. The bike storage shed is made from polypropylene resin plastic and steel-reinforced to ensure durability and ruggedness. The shed is weather-resistant, waterproof and UV protected so you can use it outdoors in rain or snow. This outdoor motorcycle shed has a very good rating with hundreds of reviews. You can definitely go ahead with this without a second thought. If you can guess from the picture, this shed can easily hold more than 1 bicycle or even a motorbike (unless you are parking a super bulky Harley). The floor of the shed is made of polypropylene resin which is sturdy and weather resistant. The dimension of the side walls is 39.8 in x 73.6 in which is pretty large for storing anything, not just a bike. Also, there is a window panel that can be installed on either side of the shed. 4. Zerust Rust Protection Motorcycle Storage Cover By using Zerust Rust Protection Motorcycle Storage Cover, you can be sure that your bike is well protected. The cover is water-resistant, rust-inhibiting non-toxic and odorless. This zip model encloses your whole bike hence efficient even in cold and humid locations. The unit measures 45 inches by 70 inches thus sufficiently spacious. Since this cover comes with a floor, you can use it outdoors without having to worry about your metal parts getting corroded due to the soil and rain. Also, the cover keeps pests like mice away making it one of the safest options for your expensive motorbike. 5. Keter Factor 6x3 Outdoor Storage Shed If you are looking for a compact motorcycle storage shed that does not take a lot of space, you will like this product. Keter Factor shed is a 6 ft x 3 ft high-quality storage unit that you can utilize for storing your motorbike or bicycle. The product dimension is External: 70 in. W x 44.5 in. D x 82 in. H / Internal: 64 in. W x 39 in. D x 76.5 in. H. It has a total storage capacity of 110 cu. ft. For this size, Keter Factor seems a bit expensive, may be because of its quality and construction. The usage of polypropylene resin plastic with reinforced steel makes this shed super durable and maintenance-free. It is a 100% outdoor shed so that you can use it in rain or snow. This heavy-duty building will never rust, dent, rot, or peel. This compact garden shed features a lockable door (you need a padlock), ventilation and lots of shelving options. Moreover, the skylights are provided for natural lighting inside the space. Featuring a sturdy floor panel, the shed can be installed anywhere. To conclude, this bike storage space is strong and compact but the inside space may be limited. But it should be enough for storing things like push lawn mower, bike, yard tools, garden tools, and patio furniture, etc. 6. XYZSTEM Waterproof Motorcycle Cover This outdoor bike cover is designed with a universal fit-XXXL Large material to fit up to ninety-nine percent standard-sized bikes in the market up to 116 inches. The material is made of Oxford material that makes it waterproof and enables it to protect your motorcycle against rain, UV rays, dust, heat, and inclement weather. It also features a windproof buckle and locks holes to keep it intact in incidents of strong winds. This tent has rave reviews and ratings. Costing well under $50, this motorcycle cover is a perfect option for a budget lover. Also, this cover works with almost any motorbike, including Harley Davidson but doesn't your super luxury Harley deserve more? 7. Bike Capsule BB8F 8' Indoor Bike Shed Car Capsule's indoor bike capsule features a bubble made of a PVC, a synthetic plastic polymer. The base is resistant to mechanical tears and is flame retardant. More so, the base of this bubble will not be affected by conventional motorbike fluids such as gasoline and oil. The storage bubble is about eight feet; hence, it has plenty of big room in storage. It uses a high-pressure fan to put the air within the bubble to prevent condensation. The Bike capsule is very easy to use. Just position your bike on the baseman, attach the fan and filter, zip it up, and plug it in. The shed comes with a fan, a power supply to inflate it and a charcoal filter to keep dust and dirt out of the capsule. The setup takes just about 2 minutes. The Bike Capsule comes in 8 & 12 Ft. lengths. A majority of bikes will fit in the capsule, including those that are equipped with saddlebags. Having a transparent capsule cover for your bike is a good idea to show it off. The setup looks really cool, like an antique shown in an exhibition. Key Takeaways We have thoroughly reviewed these motorcycle storage sheds in every way possible. As you have observed, these products vary in materials, weight, mobility, portability, and more. Metal and wooden sheds provide the most security and are more robust against environmental elements while the tents offer compact functionality. If I were to put myself in your shoes, I would either choose The Bike Shield or Arrow Woodridge. The former is super compact and easy to use while the latter has a lot of space for storing other stuff along with my bike. However, if you know your backyard or float yard is continuously being decorated, or you can't decide that a specific part be occupied by the motorbike shed, then the best option is probably the mobile models. When you go out shopping, choose the bike tent that suits your needs best. This post has been updated on January 24, 2021 WhatsAppFacebookPinterestTwitterLinkedInReddit
